

Emergency Medicine Opportunity Assistant Director of Emergency Ultrasound York Pennsylvania

WellSpan York Hospital is seeking a full time academic faculty member in Emergency Medicine to serve as an Assistant Director of Emergency Ultrasound. Wellspan Health is a top-rated integrated health system and tertiary care center with a collaborative culture and a focus on a high-quality patient care.

About the Practice

- York Hospital is a Level 1 Trauma Center located in York, Pennsylvania that serves an annual volume of over 80,000 visits per year.
- The Department of Emergency Medicine consists of 27 faculty, 33 residents, and 2 ultrasound fellows.
- We are seeking an Assistant Director of Emergency Ultrasound to help with educational, research, and technical aspects of our ultrasound program, which was established over a decade ago.
- Our ultrasound program includes 5 ultrasound machines with digital archiving, weekly QA and educational sessions, a well-developed billing program, resident and medical student ultrasound rotations, hosting of an annual regional ultrasound conference, and interdisciplinary education of other physicians in the WellSpan system.
- Successful candidate will have desire for excellence in both clinical care and resident education. Must be ABEM or AOBEM board certified or prepared and have completed an emergency ultrasound fellowship.
- Competitive salary and outstanding benefits which includes retirement plan, relocation, and paid medical malpractice

Lifestyle/Community

- York is a family oriented community with excellent schools, a low cost of living and low crime rates.
- Abundant outdoor and cultural activities include golfing, hiking, symphony, farmers markets and downtown access to a 42-mile recreation trail
- Located just one hour north of the Baltimore/DC metro area and 90 minutes from Philadelphia.

Helpful Links

Click Here to explore the EM Residency Program
Click Here for more information about WellSpan-York Hospital
Click Here for a video on innovation at WellSpan Health

For immediate confidential consideration or to learn more please contact
Laura Myers, Director of Physician Recruitment at 717-851-5445
E-mail: lmyers9@wellspan.org
Visit our website at: www.wellspancareers.org