

Emergency Medicine Physician

The University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center Department of Emergency Medicine is currently recruiting for a faculty member at the Assistant/Associate Professor level in the clinician/educator or clinical scholar track. Qualified candidates should be BC/BP in Emergency Medicine and possess or be eligible for a Texas Medical License. At least one year of post-training clinical experience and/or fellowship training is preferred, but not required. Emergency Medicine (EM) at UT Southwestern (UTSW) and Parkland Memorial Hospital is expanding its faculty in both general EM and subspecialty areas. The Parkland Emergency Department is an ACS Level I Trauma Center triaging approximately 220,000 patients per year, treating 135,000 high acuity patients, and also operates accredited regional Burn, Stroke, and Poison Centers. The three-year EM residency program gives faculty the opportunity to work in a productive teaching and learning environment.

UT Southwestern Medical Center ranks among the top academic medical centers in the world. Our distinguished faculty includes active Nobel Prize winners. Nearly 4,200 medical, graduate and allied health students, residents and postdoctoral fellows are trained each year.

The Dallas area boasts a low cost of living with diverse neighborhoods and great schools. The area has world class quality of life options, with more than 175 museums and art galleries, premier performance halls, numerous parks, lakes, golf courses and seven professional sport franchises.

For more information, please E-mail your CV to Michelle Gray, Administrative Associate to Dr. Deborah B Diercks, Chair, Department of Emergency Medicine, UT Southwestern at michelle.gray@utsw.edu

UT Southwestern Medical Center is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Women, minorities, veterans, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.