Assistant Professor/Assistant Professor in Residence
Department of Emergency Medicine
University of California, Irvine School of Medicine

The Department of Emergency Medicine at the University of California, Irvine Health School of Medicine is seeking applicants for a Senate faculty position as tenure -track Assistant Professor (.50), and non-tenure- track Assistant Professor In Residence (.50)

Applicants must have a strong record of peer-reviewed publications, demonstrated potential to be an independent researcher and excellent teaching credentials. The faculty member will serve as a Clinical Scientist in the tenure track.

Candidates must possess a Ph.D., or M.D./Ph.D. with an advanced degree. A California Medical License and Board Certification in Emergency Medicine are required for candidates who possess an M.D. A regionally or nationally-recognized record of scholarly activity and an independent program of research are also required. Preference will be given to researchers interested in investigating the relationship of emergency medicine with public health, health policy and population based health.

The successful candidate will be expected to engage in collaborations with research minded faculty in order to foster the development of research and the pursuit of grant funding in the Department of Emergency Medicine. Additionally, it is expected that successful candidates will engage in an independent and extramurally-funded program of research; medical student and post graduate residency teaching; perform University and public service; and if an M.D., deliver outstanding patient care. Rank, step, and salary will be based upon the candidate's training, qualifications, and experience. Interested candidates should apply online via UC Irvine RECRUIT System, located at <https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/apply/JPF03114>
